How to install Showcase_DecoderPackMPEG-2_Win32bit_v8.2.0

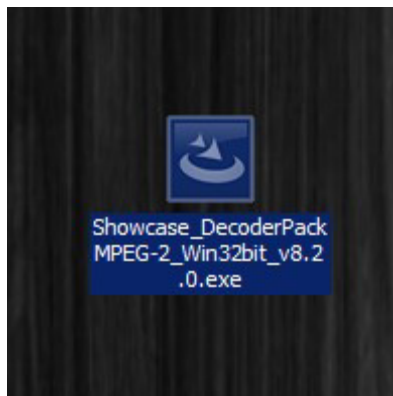

This software is only necessary if you use a Laptop or any regular Windows machine to use the VPU software. It is not needed if you use a MA VPU. If a full version of the MainConcept MPEG2 Decoder Version 8.2 is already installed on your machine, there is also no need to use the installer.

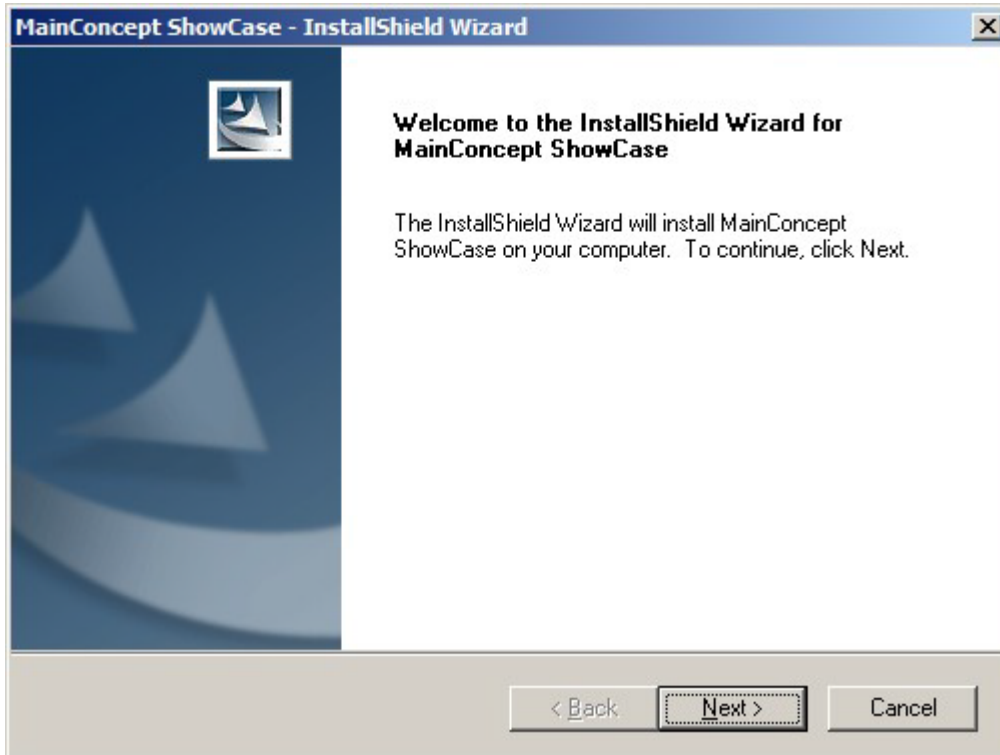

This installer does show up as Showcase Version 2.2, but it contains the demo installer 8.2 of the MPEG2 Decoder Pack.

The installer works on Windows XP SP3 32Bit, Vista SP2 32Bit and Windows7 32Bit and 64Bit. All other OS are not tested by MA Lighting.

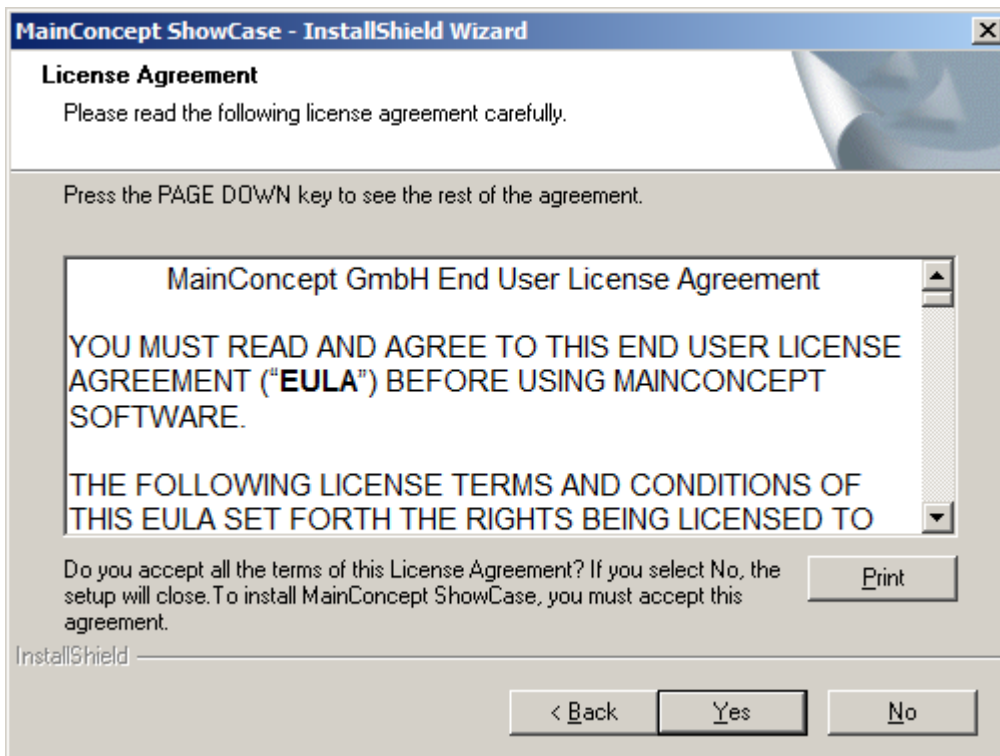

You need administration rights to execute the installer.

Double click on the installer:

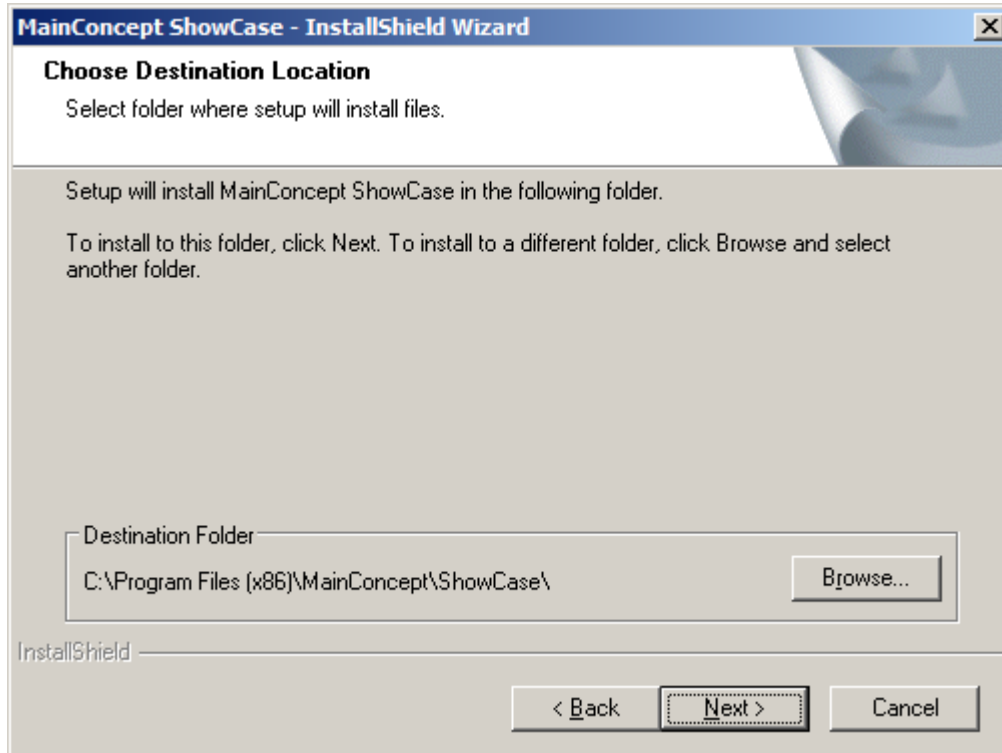

Click Next to proceed.

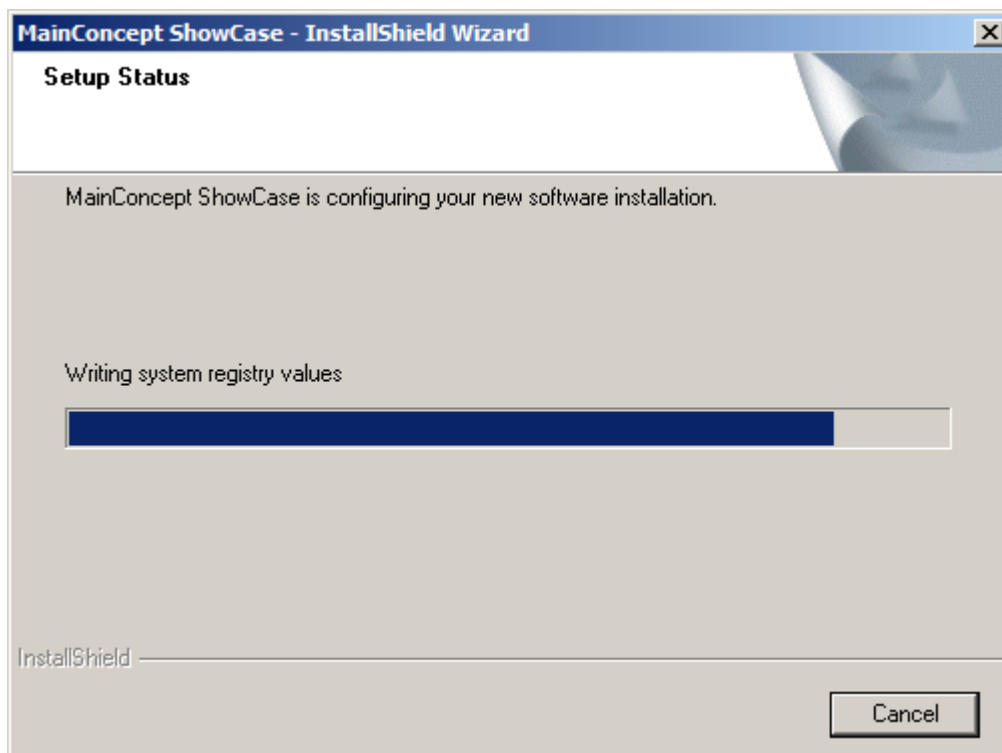

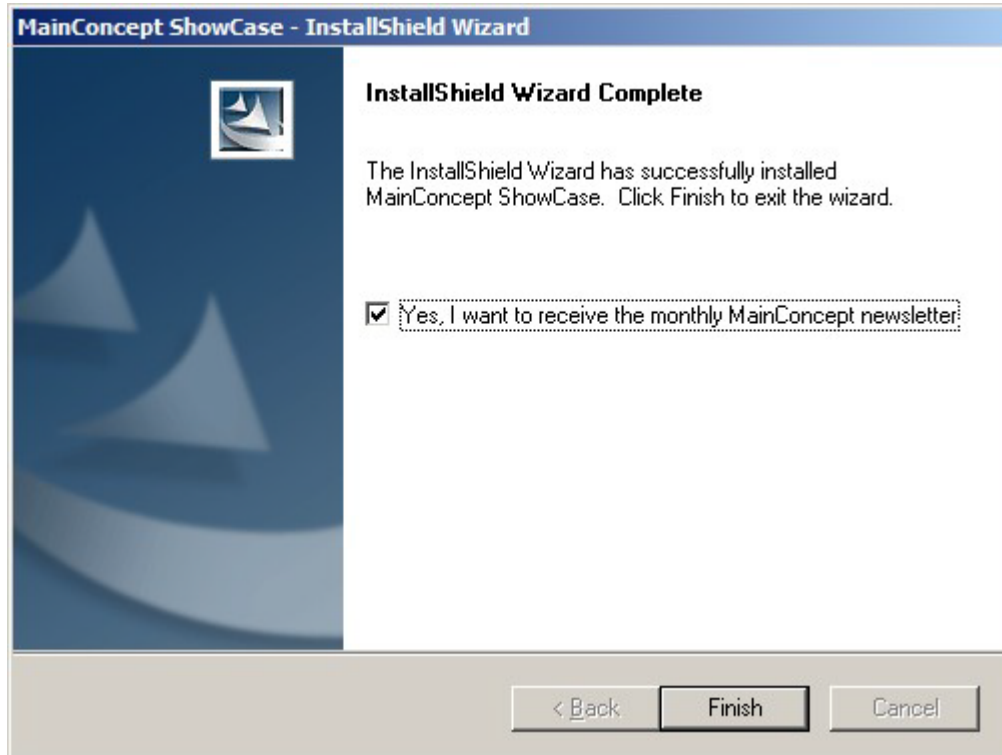

Click Yes to accept the EULA.

Click "Browse" to select the installer folder. Normally you do not have to change this. Click Next to proceed.

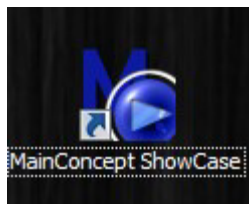

The software will be installed on your system.

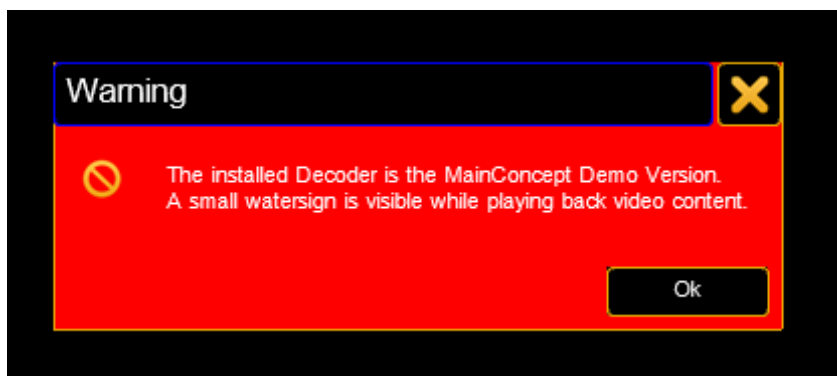

Click Finish to end the installer process.

An Icon will be placed on the desktop. You can delete that since it is not needed for the VPU Software:

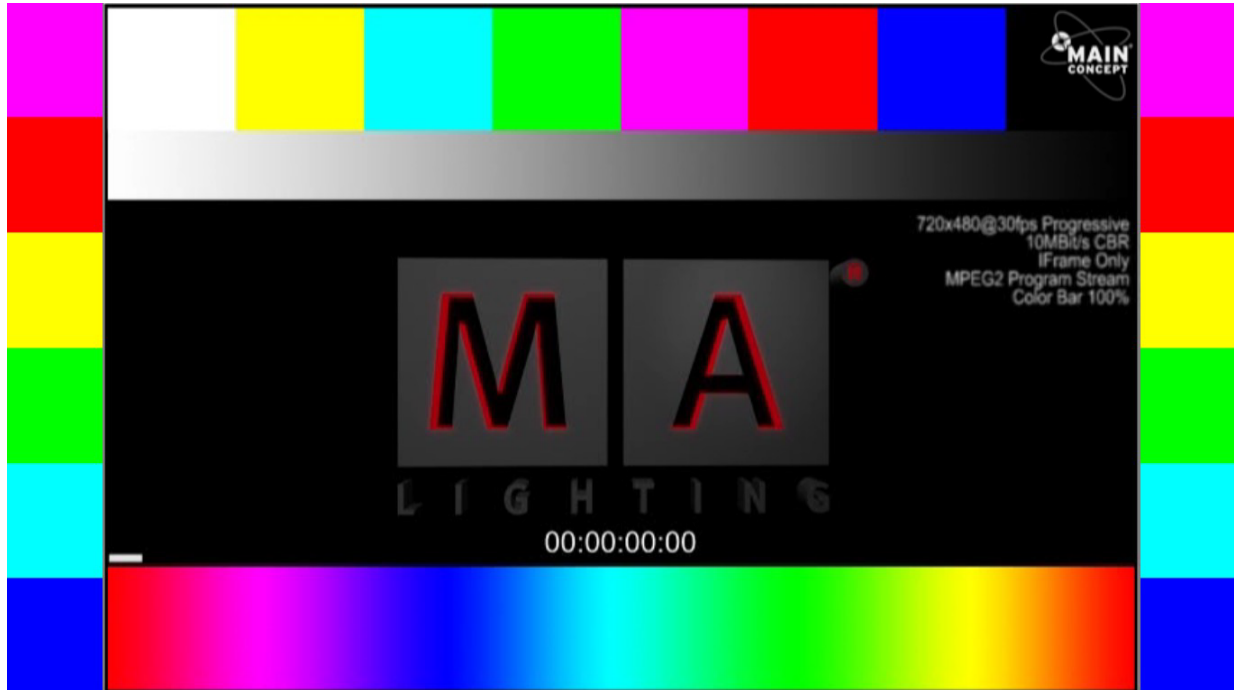

If no MainConcept MPEG2 Decoder is installed on your system, the VPU software will report it during startup:

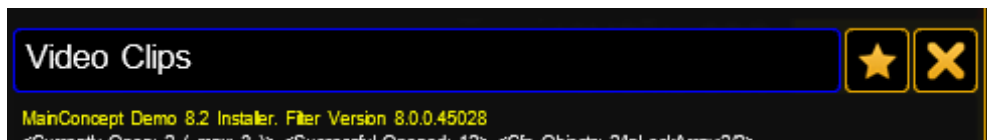

If a video clip is played back in the VPU software, a small water-sign is visible in the top right. If the clip contains sound, the sound is cut off after 30 seconds.

The user always can see which video decoder is used in the Docking Frame / Clip window.
